INTRODUCTION &
ORIENTATION

The Introduction and orientation unit provides you with essential information on teacher edict, teaching environments and what is expected during the course.

Within any EFL setting, culture plays a pivotal role. Teachers have an honored role in Thai society, so in order to integrate well into society a thorough understanding of Thai culture is essential. In this unit we focus on topics such as language, religion, societal values, cultural norms and general business practices. If taking our course in Vietnam, Cambodia or China the culture section will be replaced for that country.

02

A BRIEF HISTORY

OF ENGLISH

English has a complicated system of rules and exceptions for its syntax. Part of the complexity arises from its history. A basic understanding of why the language operates the way it does is essential.

COURSE SUMMARY

STUDENT LEVELS

This unit is dedicated to unravelling the key differences in learning styles that can be found between young children and teenagers, or between beginners and advanced students. We'll illustrate ways to make adjustments that cater for these differences.

HOW STUDENTS LEARN

There are many different teaching styles, and each teacher brings his or her own personality to the classroom, adding more spice to the proverbial pot. In order to capitalize on your effectiveness as a teacher, it helps to understand how the process of learning actually takes place.

LEARNER MOTIVATION

Understanding what motivates learners is critical to managing their behavior. In this unit we uncover the myriad reasons, both individual and societal, that motivate students to learn.

LESSON STRUCTURE

Planning and delivery of lesson content is probably what most consider the cornerstone of TEFL training. This unit focuses on how you order and present your lessons. After this unit, you'll be ready to speak and present anytime, anywhere Managing student behavior is at the forefront of any teachers' priorities. Without successful managerial skills, hindrances to teaching are exacerbated. We place great importance on the ability to successfully manage student behavior.

The manner in which you encourage your students to practice and how you correct their mistakes cannot be overemphasized. Overtly correcting may inhibit students, while too lax an attitude may confuse and disorientate.

TEACHING VOCABULARY

Much EFL time will be dedicated to teaching new vocabulary items. We will cover different ways of teaching vocabulary, strategies for selecting appropriate words, and applicable activities for reinforcement.

Mastery of speaking and writing skills are also essential in order to be considered a successful communicator. This chapter looks at different conventions that govern these areas, and takes a look at different ways of teaching these skills.

TEACHING WRITING

Written text has a number of conventions that set it apart from grammar or vocabulary. Understand the issues of the letter formation, word order and text formation, manifested by handwriting, spelling and layout punctuation. In this chapter you will study the different approaches to writing and data collection specific to genre and function.

TEACHING SPEAKING

The ability to speak fluently presupposes not only knowledge of language features, but also the ability to process information and language on the spot. In this chapter we explore the elements necessary for spoken production through interaction, language processing, communication games and speaking activities.

A major part of language learning is learning how to read and listen. This chapter explores various reasons for reading and listening, and the different ways these skills can effectively be taught in the classroom.

TEACHING READING

To get maximum benefit from their reading, students need to be involved in both extensive and intensive reading. The chapter will cover teacher roles in reading and the different reasons for reading.

TEACHING LISTENING

Students can improve their listening skills and gain valuable input through a combination of extensive and intensive listening material and procedures.

When teaching any language; knowledge of the structure of the language is essential. This chapter will dedicate some time to grammar instruction and the different ways in which grammar can be presented in the classroom.

TEACHING PRONUNCIATION, ARTICULATION & INTONATION

Pronunciation is a very sensitive but important topic, especially in the TEFL setting. We look at different theories on the methodology behind pronunciation teaching, the reasoning behind those theories, and the basic hindrances to good pronunciation. A large portion of this unit is also dedicated to articulation and intonation.

TEACHING THE

EIGHT PARTS OF SPEECH

TEACHING THE

TWELVE VERB TENSES

In the English language there are eight parts of speech that are the most common as every single word that comes out of your mouth is one of the eight parts of speech. In this chapter we not only learn their function, but learn how to teach them to different class levels.

TEACHING METHODS

You've probably heard of the Rosetta Stone and other similar approaches to language learning. Researchers have been trying for many years to find the golden method of language acquisition. With this in mind, this unit takes a look at some

TEACHER

ADMINISTRATION

This chapter covers the administrative side of teaching beyond the lesson plans. The teacher trainees are taught to perform needs analyzes, create course outlines, create a course curriculum, create examinations, grading, behavioral reports, attendance sheets, and proper course material selection and experience that can only be obtained by real life instruction to real students.

BUSINESS ENGLISH

Students from across the world are taking Business English lessons for various reasons. In today's globalized world, English is the preferred language of choice when it comes to conducting business. Business English students are somewhat different from other ESL learners and in this unit provide different methods applied when teaching the corporate world.

Teaching English online is a very attractive possibility for many ESL teachers these days, and it a choice that is gaining popularity. Thanks to the advances in telecommunication technology and devices, you have the possibility to reach students from across the globe.

Teaching Math and Science as an ESL teacher has become increasingly popular in many schools across Asia and Arabian Gulf states.

The teaching of Math and Science is a bit different from teaching English with its unique skill set. During this chapter we explore those different skills to deliver these lessons.

Each applicant is given hands-on experience on how to run an English camp on the last day to the entire school. Obtaining real teaching experience during the course allows the teacher trainee feedback and confidence before graduating the TEFL program.

Upon the commencement of the the English Camp, each teacher trainee is also presented a Volunteer teaching certificate in their name by the director of the school as the three days of teaching practice and the English Camp are non-profit.

WHY THAILAND?

We have to smile when we get asked this question, because we know from experience that once you get here, you won't be able to imagine not taking a TEFL course in Thailand! Thailand is a gateway to Asia – the perfect mixture of modern, western comforts and authentic, cultural experiences.

Importantly, Thailand is full of opportunities for English teachers. Jobs are abundant and the cost of living is low, giving you the opportunity to travel and explore, or use your savings as you see fit. And, Thailand offers you unimaginable diversity, divine cuisine and friendly locals.

WHERE CAN I WORK WITH AN ENTRUST TEFL CERTIFICATE?

A Entrust TEFL certificate allows you to teach English as a foreign language practically anywhere in the world! We currently have course graduates working all through South East Asia, China, South Korea, Dubai, Saudi Arabia, United Emiratis, Hungary, Spain, Ukraine and Central America.

While all countries have their own set of rules, regulations and requirements concerning the employment of foreign labor, we are recognized around the globe. This is helped by our professional associations, years of solid reputation and over 5000 graduates already working world wide. That said, we do recommend that if you know where you'd ultimately like to teach, that you do your homework about that country's employment requirements.

Some countries may require an additional or higher qualification (like a degree), along with your Entrust TEFL Certificate. They may also have age and ethnicity requirements in order to legally employ you.

DO I NEED TO HAVE TEACHING EXPERIENCE TO TEACH IN THAILAND?

No, you do not need to have any previous teaching experience or even speak a word of Thai. However, a definite interest in this field goes without saying. Through our TEFL program, you'll receive hands-on training through our intensive 120-hour course, be immersed in the Thai culture while being supported by our staff, and see your confidence grow through teaching observation and practice at real schools.

You don't need to speak a word of Thai to teach English in Thailand. If you do have teaching experience or certification; a degree in Education, English, Math or Science; and other transferable skills – then we encourage you to apply as well. These are sought after by Thai schools.

CAN I TEACH IN A CITY OF MY CHOICE?

The final hiring decision is made by your prospective employers individual needs and requirements. As Entrust TEFL is simply making the introduction, you'll be able to decide whether to accept a job position or not, based on the openings available balanced with your individual needs. That being said, our placement department does not collect any fee or commission on your placement, so we introduce you directly to your prospective employer to give you the most money in your pockets every month.

TEFL graduates will tell you that flexibility and reasonability is key to having an enjoyable experience. Don't get discouraged if you can't land your dream job on day one as we can't guarantee that we'll be able to honor your request. Once you get some teaching experience on your CV, some money in your pocket, a true idea of what levels and where you want to teach . . then you can go for that dream job.

WHAT IS THE AVERAGE STARTING SALARY FOR A TEACHER?

Non degree holder Degree holder

25,000 - 30,000 Thai baht per month

30,000 - 35,000 Thai baht per month

WHAT IF I ONLY WANT TO TEACH FOR A SHORT TIME?

You can work as much or as little as you want however, most schools or recruiting agencies will, on average, ask you to sign either a one term (4 months) or full year contract. Most TEFL course graduates work as teachers for at least a year. Many stay in Thailand for much longer, some choosing only to work on a short-term basis at a school or language school during peak periods.

HOW SOON SHOULD I EXPECT TO BE PLACED?

You should expect to be getting job offers within your first and second week of class as our recruitment division starts contacting employers on your behalf. On the third Monday of the month we provide you with different opportunities so that you can make an informed decision about the school where you'd like to teach. Once you graduate, you should already know where you will be teaching and have made arrangements with your employer with regard to accommodation and transportation to your school.
